HIALEAH CELEBRATES RE-OPENING WITH A SPECIAL RIBBON CUTTING CEREMONY

Hialeah, Florida –

Once again the City of Hialeah rises in the midst of economic uncertainty. While many other municipalities struggle to overcome the recession, Hialeah continues to thrive.

Join Mayor Julio Robaina, the City of Hialeah, the Hialeah Chamber of Commerce and various dignitaries to celebrate the re-opening of El Puerto Gallego Restaurant. The restaurant will open its doors and re-introduce itself to the City in which it resides in order to offer the residents of Hialeah a wholesome, casual diversion to enjoy good food, exciting music and warm company.

The restaurant has just received new owners and the continuation of the local business further proves Hialeah has managed to weave through this tough recession relatively unscathed. Joining Mayor Julio Robaina will be the esteemed City Council and the President of Hialeah Dade Development INC., Mario Arus.

When – Tuesday, June 2, 2009 at 5:00 p.m.

Where – El Puerto Gallego Restaurant, 2093 Palm Avenue, Hialeah, FL
